

About the ending balance (In/Out/What's Left)

Ending balance is the amount available at the end of the month. Quicken determines this amount from the value of all the inflows and outflows you track in Quicken. Quicken begins with your starting balance for the month, and then adds the amount you saved for the month or subtracts the amount you overspent for the month.